SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

SIMMONS' LIVER DISEASE and indigestion prevail to a greater extent than probably any other malady, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the LIVER is regulated in its action health is almost invariably secured. Indigestion or want of action in the liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered for these ailments. It acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds from all parts of the country will vouch for its virtues. Rev. John Hoyt, Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia; Bishop Pierce, of Georgia; John Gill Shorter of Alabama; Gen. John B Gordon, R. L. Mott, of Columbus, Georgia, are among the hundreds to whom we can refer. Extract of a letter from Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872: "I occasionally use it when my condition requires it. Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active medicine.

It is not the quality eaten that gives strength, life, blood and health. It is the thorough digestion of the food taken. It be much or little. Therefore do not stimulate up the stomach to crave food, but rather assist digestion after eating by taking

HOW TO CONDEMN THE FRAUD.

A criminal who sat a Judge
Upon the crime he consummated
Appeals to those he helped to wrong,
And asks that he be vindicated.

But modern rogues no longer have
The privilege of sanctuary;
They get, or ought to get, their dues—
The rope, or penitentiary.

For four long years the White House roof,
The marble of the Presidency,
Shelters and covers one whom men
Have justly named its Fraudulency.

That his should be the stolen goods
Who was but guilty of receiving
Is bad enough, but here comes one
Who led and engineered the thieving.

For such a place at such a time,
Can such a man be fairly fitted,
Who made himself a judge to clinch
The crime that he himself committed.

To put in the receiver's place
The thief, and let him proudly herd it,
Would be a base and shameful thing,
And no free people could afford it.

When men who stole the people's votes
Step up and ask a vindication,
The voters then should vindicate
The honor of the swindled nation.

Their duty, it must clearly be
To pretty the Presidency,
And set the seal of blame on one
Who might be styled his Insolvency.

Lying Tactics.

From the New York Truth, (Independent.)

For many months past Republican journals throughout the country have teemed with quotations from an obscure paper published in Mississipi, called the Okolona State. Its utterances reeked with ribaldry and treason. It advocated the most pernicious doctrines and filled its columns with insult to the Union and its people. Extracts from this paper were everywhere heralded by the Republican press as an expression of the real feeling and sentiments existing at the South, and doubtless contributed no little toward spreading such erroneous belief among the Northern public.

During a long period the patient inhabitants of Okolona and its vicinity were content to view its editor as a harmless and amusing idiot, little dreaming that his absurdities would ever penetrate beyond the little circle in which they were laughed at. In time, however, and that very recently, they learned better—learned how systematically and infamously they had been misrepresented and insulted—learned how they were coming to be regarded as a desperate gang of partisan cut-throats, instead of a peaceful body of farmers as they are. They commenced to inquire into the personality of this red-hot editor, who he was, and where he came from; and soon found out that he was a Northern importation, with a very hazy history. In their righteous indignation they rose, and it was not many days before he was making the fastest time on record across the Ohio river. Since then the Okolona State has been dumb.

The most prominent among the western newspapers which has given widespread publicity to the Okolona editor's infamous insults was that staunch Republican journal the Chicago Tribune, and strangely enough, when the fleeing editor landed it was in its sanctum, where he has since been engaged as a member of its staff.

Now, the inference is unavoidable that this red headed rebel, who wanted to use the American flag as a door mat, shoot every negro, and lynch every white man who voted the Republican ticket, refuse to pay taxes, and re-establish the Confederacy with saintly Jeff Davis as its Chief Executive, was, after all, only a paid Republican spy, in the service of some of the unscrupulous managers of that party.

Nor is this the only case. A few years ago an almost similar instance occurred in one of the parishes of Louisiana. In fact, this sort of thing seems to be a part of the Republican tactics, and doubtless the entire South is now being stuffed full of just such mendacious Bohemians instructed to misinterpret and misrepresent speeches made in the South by its prominent leaders to the same extent that Wade Hampton's silly vaporings were recently tortured at Staunton, Va. There can no longer be a doubt that the Republican leaders' stock in trade will be made up largely of just such manufactured evidence

MAINE!

Republicans Defeated by a Majority of 1.000 to 2,000.

The Fusion Governor Elected

TWO OUT OF FIVE CONGRESSMEN ELECTED BY THE ANTI-REPUBLICANS, AND A THIRD ONE CLAIMED.

The State election in Maine took place last Monday and resulted in the election of Plaisted. Fusion candidate for Governor over Davis, republican, by 1,000 to 2,000 majority. The Fusion was made by the Democrats and Greenbackers to overthrow the Republicans, and they succeeded beyond their most sanguine expectations. Up to Saturday, Blaine, the ablest General of the opposition, claimed the State by 6,000 majority, but the tide was too strong, and the prestige of his party has been swept away. Maine has been republican for the last thirty years with the exception of one year. In 1850 it gave a republican majority of 18,000, in 1872 17,000: in 1876, 15,000. It is a defeat that makes all of the doubtful states sure for Hancock in November. It has completely crushed the enthusiasm of the republican party, and from now until the election their fight for supremacy will be only a mere form.

The latest returns indicate that Plaisted has a plurality of 800 to 1,000. The Legislature is republican. Blaine is hard at work trying to doctor the returns.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

We have been insisting that the question of tariff is not a national issue, but a matter of purely local interest. Pennsylvania democrats favor a protective tariff, while Western republicans are in favor of free trade. Read what a republican correspondent of the Philadelphia Times writes from Indianapolis on the subject:

"There is no disguising the fact that the tendency of all parties in the Western States is to Free Trade. It has been taught for years by the Chicago Tribune, the ablest and most largely circulated republican journal of the West, and both Indiana and Illinois would vote for free trade by a two-thirds vote if the naked issue could be presented to them. It is a popular theory with our agricultural people, and we have no such mining or manufacturing regions as Pennsylvania has to make the tariff a vital question".

The main point made by our local republican speech makers is that of tariff. They insist that the Democracy favors free trade while they are the only supporters of a protective tariff. In the face of all these facts such arguments are nonsense.

With his usual fairness and courtesy Chairman Lowenberg refrained from calling out any sort of a Democratic demonstration on Tuesday night, over the Maine elections, because the republicans had advertised a meeting for that night, and he did not wish to interfere with them in any way. Would the republicans show us the same courtesy under similar circumstances.

While the Social Science Association is in session at Saratoga discussing matters more or less remotely connected with public interests it would be well and timely if some distinguished member would read and prepare a paper called "An Examination into "the Principal Causes and Probable Results "of the Moral Decline of a Republic to "which one President who obtained his of "fice through fraud could possibly be suc-"ceeded by another Proved Guilty of Bribe-"taking and Perjury.." The subject would be of vital importance and of immense "contemporary human interest."—New York World.

Can anyone name a prominent American Democrat who is a member of a free trade club? The Republican candidate for President is a member of the Cobden Free Trade Club to-day, and yet the organs of that party are trying to make the people believe that the republican party alone favor protection. Who ever heard before of a tariff party with a free trade candidate.

Grant on the Spirit pervading the South.

THE BEST WITNESS IN THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Going to and returning from Mexico last winter General Grant made a tour of the Southern States. His arrival in Illinois was emphasized by a speech in which he said:

"It may be appropriate on this occasion to refer to my trip through the Southern States and to what I have seen while traveling. I have been gratified with my reception in all the recently rebellious states. I passed from Philadelphia to Florida on my way to Havana, and on my return came via Texas from Mexico, thus passing through all the rebellious states, and it will be agreeable to all to know that hospitality was tendered me at every city through which I passed and accepted in nearly all of them by me. The flag floated over us everywhere, and the eyes of the people in those states are as familiar with it anyore, and look upon it as guaranteeing to them all the rights and priveliges of a free people without regard to race, color, or previous condition of servitude. In most of the States, upon the reception committee side by side, were the men that wore blue and the men that wore gray, and reception addresses were made in part by those who wore blue and those who wore gray. We have no reason to doubt that those who wore the gray will fulfill all they have promised in loyalty to the flag and the nation.—Exchange.

General Banks, who is stumping in New Jersey for General Hancock, who is a member of the House committee which reported that General Garfield was a knowing and willful participant in the operations of the Credit Mobilier. An ingenious correspondent of the Boston Herald went in quest of General Banks, found him and plumply asked him why he regarded in 1880 as "free from shame and dishonor" the man who in 1873 he had officially helped to brand with shame and dishonor. No explanation could be got from General Banks excepting that he "did not care to go into the matter." This was not satisfactory to the correspondent of our esteemed contemporary. But really what else could he have expected? Of course General Banks did not "care to go into the matter." But it is to be hoped that whenever General Banks may appear in New Jersey some hard-headed citizen will not only "care to go into the matter" but will go into it and insist on a reply.—New York World.

The Buckshot War.

AN INTERESTING HISTORICAL EPISODE RECALLED AND AN APPLICATION MADE.

To the Editor of THE TIMES.

"The committee appointed to inquire into the causes of the disturbances at the seat of government in December, 1838," consisted of Mr. Snowden, chairman, Messrs Fleuniken, Roberts, T. S. Cunningham and Long. Mr. F. K. Boaz was elected secretary. The committee met on the 14th of March, 1839. On the 25th of March Mr. Long was excused and Mr. Zeilin was substituted. A large amount of evidence was taken, and the committee made its report to the House June 18 1839.

It was an early attempt to commit an election fraud, and the committee found that "the difficulties which took place at the seat of government on the 4th day of December last, the day appointed for the meeting of the Legislature, had their origin in a fraud concocted by certain Federal return judges in the county of Philadelphia, with the advice and co-operation of William B. Reed, the Attorney General of the commonwealth, and John G. Watmough, the sheriff of the city and county of Philadelphia, by which the regularly elected members of the House of Representatives were iniquitously attempted to be deprived of their seats, a fraud which Thomas H. Burrows, Secretary [of State under Governor Ritner, and Thaddeus Stevens, one of his Canal commissioners, and a member of the House from Adams county, and the latter by attempting to organize the Legislature in a manner unknown to the Constitution and laws."

In their report the committee find that fictitious names were placed upon the registry; that bribes were offered and paid to change the result; that hordes of individuals under the pretext of being officers to preserve the peace, were employed and stationed near the respective election houses with the view of intimidating the Democrats from the free exercise of the right of suffrage; that tickets were taken from the boxes before the closing of the polls and before the canvassing took place; that tickets were thrown into the boxes and counted which had never been deposited in the legal manner, and that false receipts for taxes were manufactured and that other offences of a similiar nature were committed.

General Adam Diller testified: "In consequence of an alarming report caused by newspaper publications, one of them over the name of Thomas H. Burrowes, stating that their party should treat the late election as if they had not been defeated, and another editorial in the Harrisburg Chronicle a Ritner paper, telling the people to repair to Harrisburg on the day of the meeting of the Legislature to put those eight members from the county of Philadelphia in their seats if they refused, peaceably if they could, if not, forcibly," there was likely to be trouble at the meeting of the Legislature. The address of Thomas H. Burrowes, chairman of the State committee, "To the friends of Joseph Ritner," contains this sentence: "Let us treat the election of the ninth instant as if we had not been defeated and in that attitude abide the result.

Governor Ritner called out the military and put them under the command of Major Robert Patterson. He saw at once there was no necessity for such a display, and so reported to the Governor. Ritner refused to discharge them, and directed the General to undertake to preserve the public peace. And on the 10th December, 1838, General Patterson felt himself constrained to give Governor Ritner a bit of information and advice as follows: "Allow me respectfully to state that mere violations of the 'public peace' should be prevented or punished by the civil authorities, and until it is ascertained that they are unable to accomplish those objects the military should not be called on to perform those duties. It is hardly necessary to say that, as commanding officer of the division, I shall meet all questions in the line of my duty with promptness."

Thus we see in this very short abstract of a phamphlet of 163 pages, how history, civil and military, repeats itself. Here we see the beginning of the Davenports and Mouatts in the Watmoughs and Reeds of forty years ago; how a weak government sought to plunge the State into anarchy and bloodshed, and was restrained and prevented by a cooland clear-headed military officer, one who knew his duty as such, and yet determined that the civil law must be superior to the military, and "that mere violations of the public peace" were within the duties of the civil authorities.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. Sep. 14th, 1880.

THE REPUBLICANS HAVE CAPTURED THEIR HOLLAND—WANING RELATIVE INFERENCE OF RADICAL NEW ENGLAND. WHAT GENERAL WALKER SAYS OF SOUTHERN CENSUS RETURNS.

Republicans here are shouting themselves hoarse because, forsooth, they have carried Vermont; a State that was as fully conceded to them as was ever Holland to the Dutch. Vermont has gone Republican! Vermont was, is, and will be Republican! Let her have her pitiful quota in the electoral college and make the most of it. But let that prejudiced, hate-bound, ignorant brake on the ringing wheels of the Union's progress read a lesson in the signs of the times and the signs of the census. The wonderful increase in the population in the South and West is the doom of New England's sinister influence. Rhode Island, Vermont, and Massachusetts will never after the reapportionment under the present census have the influence they once wielded. Millionaire factors will continue to bulldoze and drive their white operatives like cattle to the polls, but their pernicious vote will never again have its old influence in the great plebiscitum of a nation fifty million strong. The alarm of Republican demagogues and office holders at the increased population and prosperity of the South shows how well they know its political and potential significance. They have raised the absurd cry of fraud in the census enumeration. General Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the census, recently said referring to the statements of an exaggerated census in the south: "The Republican papers are devoting a great portion of their space to what they are pleased to designate a fraudulent census in the South, based on discrepancies existing between a report of 1870, and the present one, in certain counties in South Carolina and Mississippi. I can see nothing tangible in such allegations, but shall investigate them thoroughly. The marked increase in those districts can readily be accounted for. Since 1870 thousands have emigrated to those sections, and the natural increase in population has been considerable.

The census of 1870 in the South was inaccurate. Then I did not have the appointing of the enumerators. In the main, the enumerators were United States mashals, northern men, unacquainted with the country and ignorant, incompetent colored men. They were entirely independent of me, and I had no control of their work. This census has been entirely different, and is just about perfect. It it is not it will be made so at the earliest possible moment. I shall make an investigation by means of cards of the three last censuses, and families can be traced without any considerable effort. The census of 1870 was incorrect as the investigation will show.

HILTON.

Headquarters Republican Soldiers and Sailors of the Late War.

NO. 702 CHESTNUT STREET (room no. 18.)
PHILADELPHIA, SEPTEMBER 1st 1880.

WHEREAS, General John F. Hartranft, Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, etc., has issued a paper to the veteran soldiers of the late war, which we cannot indorse; and

WHEREAS, We believe in the statesmanship, honesty—a priceless virtue at this time—and soldier qualities of General Winfield S. Hancock; and

WHEREAS, The soldier has been practically ignored, by the party in power, in all positions of trust and profit; therefore

Resolved, That we feel that it is time there was a change in the administration of public affairs. That the leaders of the republican party seem to care no more for the services of the soldiers, than to foist themselves into office.

Resolved, That we indorse the nomination of General Winfield S. Hancock, of Pennsylvania, soldier candidate for President of the United States, and a statesman whose abilities and patriotism have been tried in the field as in civil administration; a man who moved forward upon the enemy wherever he found them, the bright record of whose military and private life remains to day as unsullied as when he entered upon it; a man of distinguished abilities and attainments, whose qualities admirably fit him for the high position for which he has been nominated, and into which the country should place him.

Resolved, That in Hon. Wm. H. English, of Indiana, the candidate for the vice-Presidency, we find a Christian gentleman whose administrative powers have been shown in many positions of honor and trust, earnest in his support of the great armies which were in the field from 1861 to 1865 capable of discharging with judgment, learning and skill, the duties of which may fall upon him or pertaining to the office for which he is nominated.

Resolved, That we ask the soldiers of the country to fall into line and advance to the support of General Hancock for the Presidency.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee be directed to prepare this club for an active and vigorous campaign, and that all honorably discharged soldiers or sailors are cordially invited to participate with us, and that our club room, No. 18, at No. 702 Chestnut Street, be open at all times for their reception.

At a stated meeting of the Hancock Republican Soldiers, the above preamble and resolutions were offered by Comrade George H. Lout, and unanimously adopted.

JACOB EBNER, Secretary. JOHN C. DOBLEMAN President.

A good business opening.—The Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Ohio, desires to establish a General Agency for this section of Pennsylvania. Its assets exceed $1,500,000.00, with a large surplus, and has for many years secured the largest amount of new business in Ohio of any one company in the United States. Its interest receipts exceed its death losses, matured endowments, taxes and commissions paid to agents. Its able management is further illustrated by the the fact that its rate of losses and expenses to its premium income for the year 1879, according to the New York official reports, is less than that of any other company. It issues endowment policies at life rates, which are non-forfeitable without surrender and incontestible after three annual payments. It is governed by the insurance laws of Ohio, which are now the most stringent for the protection of policy holders of any in the Union. They require a four per cent. reserve fund invested in unquestioned securities, which the Superintendent of Insurance is required to examine. The business of Life Insurance is now rapidly increasing, and men possessing first class business ability and character, who desire a general agency for this sterling company will do well to address George Thornton, Manager, Room 33 Astor House Office, New York, stating in full, age, past experience in life insurance or other business, salaries received and references.

Commonwealth vs. Grover and Creasy, Supervisors Mifflin township. Case tried February Term 1880; defendants sentenced September Term, 1880.

CHARGE OF THE COURT.

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: It is the duty of supervisors not only to keep in suitable repair highways which are already opened, but to open those which are laid out according to law. If they neglect this duty, they are liable to indictment for misdemeanor, the object being sometimes (as apparently in this case) not so much to punish the officer as to ascertain and permanently establish facts and rights in a disputed matter.

The citizens in the immediate vicinity of the roads described in this indictment insist that some share of the township taxes shall be applied to putting those roads in proper condition, which they allege has not been done. On the other hand, the residents of the township outside of the village seem to think that the villagers are extravagant in their demand and ought to take care of their streets at their own expense.

You are not to take sides in this controversy. The village should not ask more attention to its streets than properly belongs to them, but a thickly settled place may need more and perhaps better settled streets than a rural district does, and, if its streets are legal highways it is entitled to have them opened and maintained. The first question in the case, therefore, is whether the streets in regard to the condition of which complaint is made are highways; for, if they are not, then the township officers have no right to expend the public money upon them.

An owner of land may give a portion to the public for a road, which, if accepted and used by them, becomes a highway by dedication. A road used as a public thoroughfare for twenty-one years becomes a highway by prescription. The most general method of creating a highway is by a view appointed by the court, but there is still another way, and that is by an Act of Assembly. Formerly, many highways were erected in that way. State-roads as they were called. The State has, in all the land of the Commonwealth, a sovereign right to take private property (upon due compensation) for public use, called the right of eminent domain, and, whenever an act of assembly directs that a particular road shall be recognized as a public way, it becomes a highway and remains a highway until the act be repealed or the road vacated by competent authority.

These being the general principles, their application to the present case is not difficult. On March 31, 1836, the legislature passed a law, which was approved by the Governor and found its way on the statute book, declaring Third and Fourth streets in the town of Mifflinburg (now called Mifflinville) in Columbia county, public highways, to be opened and maintained as other highways of the Commonwealth.

It is forty-four years since the passage of that law, and the streets designated Third and Fourth have been known and used as such during all that period. The length of time has been sufficient of itself, without an act of assembly, to make these two streets public highways by prescription. They had their origin, probably, in some laying out of the town before the act of 1836, of which plot or plan we have no special evidence, except a map of 1793, showing the fact that a town had been laid out. Adopting the plan of that town, the legislature said that the streets therein laid out should be public highways. They have been so used from that time down. We therefore have no hesitancy in saying to you that Third and Fourth streets in the town of Mifflinville are public highways. The next question is whether the defendants here have neglected their duty to keep these streets (or either of them) in reasonably good repair.

A road may be laid out two rods wide, but it is not customary to make the road in all places so that every foot of the two rods wide can be traveled, but the road must be so made that at any point and all points it can be safely passed over by night as well as by day. A road in a town or city may require a larger outlay than a country road.

In this case, from 1836, to the time of this complaint, nothing had been done by the supervisors to these roads, except to throw out the stones. For this neglect on the part of their predecessors, the present supervisors are not responsible, but did they, from the time they were inducted into office down to the time of the bringing of this complaint certified by the constable, do all that in reason they ought to have done? Did they exercise a sound discretion in leaving things in the condition in which they were left? Was the flooding of those streets such a thing as they were justified in permitting? Was the expense of putting them in order so great that they ought not to have incurred it? Was the accumulation of water about the school house such as should have attracted their attention and should have been guarded against? In short, were the circumstances such as required something to be done, or were they not?

A street that few people use may be left in a different condition from one that is traveled by the public generally. Nevertheless, if it is a public highway, the supervisors are bound to keep it in repair, and if the water can be carried off the streets at no great expense, it is for you to say whether that ought not to be done for the convenience and health of the community. If all has been done on the streets that the township ought to do, then of course the defendants are not guilty. If one has been negligent and the other not, you may find one guilty and the other not guilty. Supervisors are supposed to know about the condition of the roads in their charge; at all events they should inform themselves. These being no individual prosecutor in this case, if you acquit, the county must pay the costs, unless you impose them upon the defendants one or both. If you convict both or either of them you have nothing to do with the costs.

The verdict was guilty in manner and form as they stand indicted.

SENTENCE.

In the sentence the Court reaffirmed the doctrine of the charge, and said that supervisors could not by any arrangement for division of roads between themselves shirk accountability, but that each is responsible for the whole territory for the supervision of which he was elected, and is bound to open and work all lawful highways no matter how much previously neglected. In view of all the circumstances of this case, the Court imposed a fine of only one dollar each, and the costs.

Poor Weavor! As the Greenback candidate for President, he went to Maine to help the Republicans. He tried to prevent the Greenbackers from voting the Fusion ticket, He urged them not do to anything that would give aid and comfort to the Democracy. But they would not listen to him, Poor Weaver! He is more ridiculous than ever.—N. Y. Sun.

Gentlemen—At the meeting held in the Agricultural Society of St. Joseph county, Michigan, and LaGrange county, to test the relative merits of the Victor Clover Huller of Hagerstown, Md., and of the Medina, Ohio, Clover Huller, of South Bend, Ind.:

Whereas, at the St. Joseph county, Michigan, fair held at Centreville, on the first day of May, 1880, an agreement was entered into by the different machines to have a trial of their merits at the LaGrange County fair, on Thursday May 27, a joint committee was formed, consisting of five from each of the two counties, and best each trial this day.

The committee, in pursuance of the agreement, secured two horse loads of clover, which had been cut and cured in the usual manner, and brought them on the ground, and determined that each machine should thresh one load, and then each re-thresh the straws which had been run through the other machine, according to agreement.

At the conclusion of the trial the committee repaired to Agricultural Hall, and, after one deliberation, unanimously decided in favor of the VICTOR FOR RAPIDITY AND EXCELLENCE OF WORK IN ALL RESPECTS.

The Birdsell, from 1,320 pounds straw threshed 17 pounds seed, with a large quantity of chaff, the Victor from 1,210 pounds of straw threshed 48½ pounds seed, mixed with a less quantity of chaff. The time occupied in threshing by the Victor was eight minutes less than that occupied by the Birdsell. From the straw of the Victor the Birdsell machine threshed two pounds of seed; from the straw of the Birdsell the Victor threshed eight pounds of seed. The time occupied by the Victor in this re-threshing was seven minutes less than that occupied by the Birdsell.

These machines were both run by Russell engine, from Massillon, Ohio, in charge of John F. Fallon; used essentially the same amount of power. Signed by Committee,

The Friendship Fire company will have dances at their hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 14th and 15th.

The Republicans of Berwick have the sole use of Odd Fellows' Hall in that town. They refuse to allow the Democrats to use the hall for public meetings, but have no hesitancy about leasing it to a showman with an educated hog. It was probably a republican hog.

At the last meeting of the Winona Fire company a resolution was adopted, appointed a committee of three to meet similar committees from the Friendship and Rescue companies, for the purpose of making rules and regulations for the government of the fire department.

The regular meeting of the Democratic club was postponed on Wednesday evening, and in place of it a meeting was held at the Opera House and addressed by Geo. F. Baer, Esq., of Reading. Capt. Brockway who was announced as the regular speaker will address the club next Wednesday evening at their room.

Ralph Barkley Forman, son of C. S. and Sarah M. Forman, of this town, died on the 8th inst., of Diphtheria, aged 11 years and 11 days. He was buried on Friday morning. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

In the absence of Nathaniel Driesbach from his home near Jonestown, some cowardly rogues entered the cellar one night and made way with the provision in store for the wife and little children. A few nights later they were heard about the premises when Mrs. Dreisbach discharged a six shooter in the direction of the noise, which resulted in their hasty flight. We hope the next time she will give them a mark of identification.

In the appeal of the Girard estate from the rate of valuation imposed upon their lands in Columbia county, wherein Judge Parry and John G. Freeze appeared for the City of Philadelphia, and Mr. Ikeler for the county; the Court after hearing the case reduced the valuation, in accordance with the uncontradicted evidence of the appellants. The Girard Estate, it is well known is expended in the laudable object of maintaining the Girard College, and educating the orphans of the State. Last year the admissions to the college were, from the City of Philadelphia 28 students, and from the State at large 54 students. So that the State at large has a deep interest in the careful and economical management of the property.

EDS. COLUMBIAN:

DEAR SIRS:—Can it be possible that the Republican campaign managers of Columbia county cannot find timber enough in the rank and file of their party to fill out a list for their Standing Committee, without using the names of Hancock men, for that purpose; but such is the case. They have now in one of the upper End Townships of the county a name among their committee who said as soon as he heard General Hancock was nominated that he was going to vote for him and has reiterated the fact since before good and substantial citizens. These are facts that can be substantiated if necessary, but they see the game is all up with them and they are trying to play a game of bluff, but it will not work. The Democrats are united on the Soldier Statesman and their efforts will not cease until the close of the polls on the 2nd of November. And on the 4th of March he will be at the head of the procession marching down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House, as fearless and brave as he marched at the head of the column at Yorktown, Williamsburg, Fair Oakes, Gettysburg etc. UPPER END.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The committee appointed to confer with the county commissioners with reference to the old jail property not being ready to report were continued.

The committee appointed to purchase hose carriage reported that a hose carriage had been purchased to be delivered on the cars at Reading, Pa., for two hundred dollars. Report accepted and committee discharged.

Permit was granted Moyer Bros., to repair their three-story brick building situate on the corner of Second and Centre streets with the use of side walk and street as necessary.

The republicans will hold their County Convention at the Opera House next Monday.

Mrs. Ann Sanders died at her home on East street on Wednesday evening, at an advanced age. She was a sister of the late Jacob Harris, of Hemlock. For many years past she was a consistent member of the Episcopal church.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

A sea of upturned faces greeted the Hon. Geo. F. Baer, of Reading, at the Opera House on Wednesday night. Col. Freeze presided and the following officers were elected: Vice Presidents, Rohr McHenry, W. H. Snyder, Fred. Hagenbuch, Samuel Smith, F. S. Hunt, Philip Eyer, J. F. Derr and Alinus Cole; Secretaries, F. S. Hopkins, J. J. McHenry, and C. B. Jackson. The Hancock and English club attended in a body in uniform, marshalled by W. H. Jacoby, Chief Marshal, and U. H. Ent, W. Sorner, C. Gallignan and D. R. Coffman, assistants. The Glee club furnished some fine music and was loudly applauded.

Mr. Baer's speech was a most excellent one. By clear and forcible argument and undeniable facts he proved that the Republican party is not the party of a free government and pure and honest administration. He said that while Democrats from this and other strong democratic counties were fighting for their country, stay-at-home Republicans were rewarding such patriotism by calling them copperheads and traitors. More soldiers went to the army from this county and Berks than from any republican counties in the State in proportion to the population. With the keenest satire he replied to the speech of Clinton Lloyd, of the previous evening. He apologized for Lloyd, saying that he had been invited to come here to ratify the Maine election, and make a rattling speech over the victory of the Republicans in that state, but that things didn't turn out just as they were expected to, and Lloyd couldn't make the speech he had prepared for the occasion. The Maine defeat made him so mad that he spent the whole evening in abusing the Democracy in general, and Samuel J. Tilden in particular. Like Banquo's ghost the image of Tilden every now and then appears to the conscience stricken men who murdered his Presidential aspiration in 1876, and the only way to ease their conscience is by roundly abusing the noble old man who had the audacity to defeat the republican candidate by a large majority. There was no abuse of the opposition, but simply a clear exposition of the political issues of the day, showing that the Republican party had already controlled matters too long. He was frequently interrupted by rounds of applause, and the names of Hancock and McClellan were received with great enthusiasm. A better speech and a more enthusiastic audience has seldom gathered in Bloomsburg. Mr. Baer will be welcomed here warmly in the future.

The Republican says it has been informed that three cheers were given for the Southern Confederacy at a recent Democratic meeting at Bendertown. Of course, the information if it had such, is a contemptible campaign falsehood. The party that has sent Mosby, the meanest, and Longstreet one of the greatest of the rebels to represent this country at foreign Courts, ought not to say much about any body else cheering for the Southern confederacy.

CLINTON LLOYD'S SPEECH.

The first large meeting of the Republican party was held at the Opera House on Tuesday night, having been billed before hand, for the purpose of carrying out John Cessna's programme to celebrate the victory in Maine. Not having a victory there to any great extent, there was nothing to celebrate, and hence the meeting was devoid of all enthusiasm. The house was well filled, many Democrats and ladies being in the audience. Most of the former left however, being disgusted with the stuff that came from the speaker's stand. We are always ready to accord merit to an opponent when deserved, and rather enjoy listening to a fair discussion of political issues, but Mr. Lloyd's speech was not of that kind. It was nothing but intemperate abuse of Democrats, not very well done at that. He never mentioned Garfield's name from the opening to the close, thus admitting that the character of that candidate will not bear discussion. He also forgot to say anything about Maine. The speech fell flat upon the audience, the only really hearty applause being when the speaker referred to the democratic majority of 92,000 in Alabama, the applause coming from Democrats. The only effect of the speech was to make firm Democrats mad and to make doubtful Democrats firm. When the Republicans propose to hold another meeting we hope for their own credit they will secure a speaker who will discuss the issues fairly and decently. If they want a man whose speech consists of the yelling of "copperhead" and "rebel" there are plenty of that kind at home without sending to Williamsport for one. The general verdict of Lloyd's harangue is that it is the meanest and the poorest political speech that has been made in this town since he was here before, some years ago.

VALUE RECEIVED.—The only man in America who has complete facilities for collecting national statistics is Hon. A. R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress. All the data which he secures during the year is carefully retained and has been put into a book. His last issue, "The American Treasury of Facts," has been sent us by Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of the famous Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and it is really a cyclopedia in itself. In this busy age one can grasp national affairs only by statistical figures, and the work under consideration reflects much credit on Messrs Warner & Co, who have secured it.

Dr. Waller is happy. The mother and boy are doing finely; the cigars have been properly dealt out, and the Dr. ever and anon hums this sweet refrain:

I am off to see a p. tient,
Baby mine, baby mine;
But I'll hurry like the nation,
Baby mine, baby mine,
Yes, I'll hurry back to he,
And I'll take him on my knee,
While I feed him catnip tea,
Baby mine, baby mine.

ALL FOR HANCOCK.

On Saturday of last week, fifteen young men from Conyngham township came to town in a four-horse coach, for the purpose of becoming citizens of the United States. They were under the leadership of John Monroe, one of the most active Democrats in that section. They appeared before the Court and took the usual oath of allegiance. The names are as follows: Peter Bradley, Michael Flynn, Owen Monaghan, Michael Dougherty, Patrick Mahan, Thomas Roan, Anthony J. Dougherty, Alexander McDonald, Anthony Dougherty, Joseph Padden, Patrick McGinley, Patrick O'Reilly, Peter Leonhar, Patrick Lavelle and James McDonald. They were a very respectable party of young men.

The programme will be varied and entertaining. Athletic exercises will be indulged in, and a good time generally is anticipated. A cordial invitation is extended to members of surrounding Posts, and it is hoped they will improve the opportunity of once more mingling with those who stood shoulder to shoulder with them during the dark days of the rebellion. COURT PROCEEDINGS.

September 9th, Sheriff acknowledged deeds in open Court.

Venires ordered for Grand Jury and Petit Jury for December court.

The Grand Jury made this report and were discharged.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, inquiring for the body of the County of Columbia, respectfully submit the following report:

That we have diligently inquired into all matters brought before us for our consideration.

That we have made examination of the public buildings and find that the front steps leading into the Court House are in great need of repair, and that an immediate expenditure of a little money upon them will avoid a greater expense in the future.

We also find that the Sheriff and the inmates of the jail building are not supplied with so good water as is possible to be had. In fact the water that they are now using at the jail is impure. We would therefore recommend that the commissioners supply the jail with good water, and from our knowledge of the quality of the water as is now supplied by the Water Company of the Town of Bloomsburg, we would recommend that the water be procured from them. We are much pleased to see that the jail building is kept in neat and clean condition, and that the prisoners are treated humanely and their every proper want is respected; and that the Warden, Mr. William Barrett, is a useful and competent employee.

GEORGE STRICKER, Foreman.

We were greatly amused some days since by seeing one of our venerable citizens, who had been bowed down with Rheumatism, throw away his crutches, and declare himself just as young as he used to be, and now he is recommending Robert's Embrocation to every old lady in town. Great liniment that. aug 6-1m

Garfield, Give Us No More Taffy.

Garfield, give us no more taffy
On your pious deeds of yore,
It will give to us dyspepsy
More your sweetness to explore.
Tell us not that on the tow-path,
In discussion with the mule,
You spoke only texts of scripture
That you learned in sunday-school;
That when by its hind-legs chain-lightning
To your shoulder was applied,
You but prayed for further patience
Still the naughty mule to guide.
So, dear Garfield, no more taffy,
Since we find you're not the cheese.
Oh! no taffy, no more taffy,
No more taffy, if you please.

HOW TO GET almost Everything.

Do you know how to get in the easiest way and to best advantage what you want for dress and house-furnishing?

First, how: Write for a catalogue; see what you can learn from it about the things you want. If samples can be useful to you, ask for them and state your wants so plainly that exactly the right samples can be sent.

Second, where: The place where goods are kept in the greatest variety; where they are sold for what they really are in respect to quality; where prices are lowest; where most care is taken to serve customers acceptably; and where you have the right to return whatever is not satisfactory.

There—no matter where you are—if you make your wants known and avail yourself of your privileges, you will get the best things in the best way, promptly and without trouble or risk; sometimes by mail, sometimes by express, almost always at less cost for carriage than the money you save in the price.

Col. A. C. Noyes, late State Treasurer, died suddenly at his home in Westport, Clinton county, last Friday night, of paralysis. He was a native of New Hampsire but settled on the West Branch in 1847 where he engaged in the lumber business. He was always a Democrat, and was frequently elected to office though his district was republican. He was elected State Treasurer in 1877 by the Democrats, and filled that office with honor to himself and to the satisfaction of the people. Personally, he was a genial gentleman, and had hosts of friends all over the State.

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters so freely advertised in all the papers, secular and religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

Gen. Garfield's Credit Mobilier Record.

From his own sworn statement before the Poland Committee.

I never owned, received or agreed to receive any stock of the Credit Mobilier or of the Union Pacific Railroad nor any dividends or profits arising from either of them.

From Judge Poland's report Feb. 18 1873—Garfield's Testimony Perjured.

The facts in regard to Mr. Garfield, as found by the committee, are that he agreed with Mr Ames to take ten shares of Credit Mobilier stock, but did not pay for the same. Mr Ames received the eighty per cent. dividend in bonds and sold them for ninety seven per cent. and also received the sixty per cent. cash dividend, which together with the price of the stock and interest, left a balance of $329. This sum was paid over to Mr. Garfield by a check on the Sergeant-at Arms, and Mr. Garfield then understood this sum was the balance of dividends after paying for the stock.

From the N. Y. Times, Feb. 19, 1873.

Messrs. Kelley and Garfield present a most distressing figure. Their participation in the Credit Mobilier affair is complicated by the most unfortunate contradictions of testimony.

From the N. Y. Times, Feb. 20 1873.

The character of the Credit Mobilier was no secret. The source of its profits was very well known at the time Congressmen bought it. Though Oakes Ames may have succeeded in concealing his own motive, which was to bribe congressmen, their acceptance of the stock was not on that account innocent. The dishonor of the act, as a participation in an obvious fraud, still remains.

Some of them have indulged in testimony with reference to the matter which had been contradicted. The committee distinctly rejects the testimony of several of the members. This can only be done on the ground that it is untrue. But untrue testimony given under oath is morally if not legally perjury.

It is the clear duty of Congress to visit with punishment all who took Credit Mobilier stock from Oakes Ames.

From N. Y. Tribune, Feb. 19 1873.

James A. Garfield of Ohio had ten shares; never paid a dollar; received $329, which, after the investigation began, he was anxious to have considered as a loan from Mr. Oakes Ames to himself.

Well, the wickedness of all of it is that these men betrayed the trust of the people, deceived their constitutents, and by evasions and falsehoods confessed the transaction to be disgraceful.

From the N. Y. Tribune, Feb. 26, 1873

Mr. Ames establishes very clearly the point that he was not alone in this offense. If he is to be expelled for bribery the men who were bribed should go with him.

One of the greatest charms of Dr. Browning's Tonic and Alterative is the small size of the dose. The various delicate combinations of drugs are concentrated in the most careful manner, and finally brought together by a series of original processes; consequently the dose is only one teaspoonful for an adult and smaller in proportion for children. It is taken once before each meal. Last but not least, a fifty cent bottle lasts ten days, while a one dollar bottle lasts twenty four days. For sale by the proprietor, W. On account of its proven merits, it is to-day recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country.

It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

In fact it has proved to be the greatest and best remedy that has ever been discovered. It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach.

It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

Literary Revolution and UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE

An Encyclopædia in 20 VOLS, over 16,000 pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedents in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution

THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburg edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopædia in the field

Special Volumes in either style for examination with privilege of return on receipt of proportionate price per volume.

Special Discounts to all early subscribers, and extra discounts to clubs. Full particulars with descriptive catalogue of many other standard works equally low in price, sent free.

Leading principles of the American Book Exchange.

I. Publish only books of real value.

II. Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one-half what it was a few years ago.

III. Sell to buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent. commission commonly allowed to dealers.

IV. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.

V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and bombastic wording, leaded type, superfluous binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to their value.

VI. To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.

A NEW DEPARTURE!
BEST PLOW IN THE WORLD!

THE SYRACUSE CHILLED PLOW CO.
of Syracuse, N. Y.

Are now putting on the market a Plow that is as much superior to any Plow heretofore made as the Plows of the past few years have been superior to those made half a century ago.

It combines all the excellencies of any Plow in use.

It obviates all the objections made to any other Plow.

In addition it embraces several new features of the greatest value, for which we have obtained exclusive Patents.

Its Beam, Clevis, Jointer Standard and Wheel Standard will be STEEL, and its mold board will be a composition of Steel and Iron chilled under a process for which we have also obtained an exclusive Patent. It will be called

THE SYRACUSE
CHILLED STEEL PLOW

Its weight will be eighteen pounds less than our present styles.

A first-class Steel Plow, made in the ordinary way, full rigged, retails for twenty-two dollars. Inferior Steel Plows retail from sixteen to nineteen dollars.

The price of our new Plow will be but Seventeen Dollars, and it will be the cheapest Agricultural Implement ever sold.

Its mold board will outwear three of the very best kinds of the ordinary steel mold boards.

It will scour in soils where all steel plows and all other plows have hitherto proved a failure.

With this Plow will be introduced a corrugated Plow Point and Jointer Point, on which we have also obtained a Patent, and which is also a great improvement, both as regards strength and wear.

The Jointer can be shifted so as to take more or less land, and also more or less pitch, and it can always be kept on a line with the Plow.

The wheel will run under the beam or one side of it as desired, and always kept in line.

The beam is adjustable for Spring or Fall Plowing, and also for two or three horses.

The handles can be adjusted to accommodate a man or boy, on the same Plow.

It is a perfect Plow.

Wooden beams are going out of use because they shrink, swell and warp, and never run two seasons alike.

Iron beams are too heavy.

Malleable beams become demoralized and bend, which is much worse than to break.

A Steel beam is the necessity of the day. It is three times as strong and very much lighter than any other style.

When we say a Mold board is chilled, the farmers know it is so.

We do not palm off on them a composition of various metals and call it chilled metal.

We want agents for this new Plow in every town in this State.

We can give but a very small discount to them, but we will pay the Railroad Freight.

We propose to place this Plow in the hands of Farmers as near the cost of manufacture as possible.

It will be the best Agricultural Implement ever sold.

It shall also be the cheapest.

Persons therefore who are not willing to act as agents on the principle that "a nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling," need not apply for an agency.

No Plows on commission. All sales absolute. ☞ This is the only Steel Chilled Plow in the World.

Steel costs several times more than iron.

But this Plow, full rigged, by giving small discounts, can be sold for Seventeen Dollars. Compare this price with that of any Iron Plow ever made.

It is cheaper than any other Plow now made would be at five dollars and a half.

Where there are no agents we will, on receipt of Seventeen Dollars, send a Plow to any Railroad station in the State and pay the freight. Address,
